

Centre for NET Coaching to S.C / S.T and Minority Students

Dibrugarh University

The centre was established in 2008 having financial aid from UGC's 12 Five Year plan with a sole motive to address the issue of equity and access to the SC/ST and Minority students by preparing them for NET/JRF conducted by UGC and CSIR. It started in the academic session 2008-2009.

The centre since its inception has been arranging coaching programmes for both UGC and CSIR - NET/JRF in the following subjects.

(1) Physics (2) Chemistry (3) Anthropology (4) Life Sciences (5) Sociology (6) English (7) Mathematics (8) Statistics (9) History (10) Philosophy (11) Commerce (12) Economics (13) Education (14) Applied Geology (15) Political Sciences (16) Library Sciences (17) Assamese (18) Juridical Sciences (19) Geography.

The centre has procured a good number of books on the relevant topics. It provides sample question papers, organises mock tests and offers skill based trainings to assist the students. Primarily meant for the S.C/S.T and Minority students the centre however allows the students of the general category to enrol into the programmes.
