

“It is better to conserve it today than fight for it Tomorrow”.

Water is the elixir of life. From drinking to cleaning and many other things, life cannot sustain without it. While many people are privileged to have running water 24×7, there is a huge population around the globe that doesn't have access to any amount of water.

To highlight the importance of water and raise awareness about the global water crisis, World Water Day is being celebrated every year on 22nd of March. A better future cannot be observed without the availability of clean water and the awareness is mostly the generation needs. Keeping in mind the theme of this year “Accelerating the change to solve the water and sanitation crisis” The World Water Day was celebrated in Centre for Studies in Geography, Dibrugarh University by the Students and the Faculty members.

To commemorate the occasion, an essay contest and an Extempore speech contest were conducted. The competitions started at 11.30 and continued till 1.30 pm. Altogether, 81 students took part in the programs, of whom 30 engaged in the extempore speech competition and 75 in the essay competition.

The programme helped in imparting awareness among the students and all the stakeholders of the centre in the importance of Water Conservation.
